1. Claims 11-39 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention and species of that invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the replies filed on 6/23/10.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Takahashi et al.

(6,921,087), Hof (6,293,395) or Makita et al. (2003/0017236). Regarding

Takahashi, the lip portion as claimed can be seen to read on sleeve 6, the spouting guide member on the structure including cylindrical wall 15, and the cap on the top board 11 and sidewall 12. Regarding Hof, note Figs 2-5 and the description thereof in the reference. As to Makita, the claimed lip portion reads on the upper cylindrical portion of fixed portion 2, the spouting guide member reads on the inner plug portion 4 of the movable portion 3 and the cap reads on the remaining portion of this movable portion 3. Elements of the claims not expressly taught by any of the references would nevertheless have been obvious in view of the teachings therein. For example, the steps recited in the method claims would at least have been obvious steps in using any of the devices of the applied references, for the purpose of properly using the same.
